Independent software consultation

Qlicense is the leading independent expert in the field of software licensing and license management. We make the licensing rules crystal clear for you and apply them with your best interest in mind!

Resellers and software manufacturers typically have their own ideas about what is important when you purchase software from them or undergo an audit. More often than not, your wants and needs will take a back seat to revenue earned by vendors and resellers as well as the fees that they charge.

Unlike these organizations, Qlicense operates 100% independently and focuses on your needs. After all, We have no interest in the sale of unnecessary licenses.

Reap the rewards

For this reason, you should reap the rewards that result from our 100% independent software consultation.

We apply the licensing rules in your best interest, with big savings!

Assistance with contract negotiation

Our years of experience and many client cases have taught us what can be achieved in terms of finances and content when agreeing to a software contract.

Support during internal SAM audits

Reduce your compliance risks. Know what you are using, what you have installed, and what software has been activated - then make your payment. Qlicense is your SAM partner.

Licensing experts

The licensing experts at Qlicense are well versed in all the ins and outs of software licensing and license management.

Software optimization

Reduce your financial risks and save on software costs by making simple changes. Qlicense provides concrete advice on how licensing rules can be applied to your advantage, preventing you from purchasing unnecessary licenses.

Compliance claims

Qlicense will provide support and guidance during a compliance claim and is capable of lowering the amount demanded. In some cases, we can even have a claim dismissed.

External audits and review

Looking to minimize your financial and legal risks? Qlicense will map out your risks and support you during an external audit or review in order to reduce them as much as possible.

Partner selection

Qlicense will walk you through a transparent selection procedure, enabling you to choose the right partner for your organization.
